

CALL FOR PAPERS

Special Issue on the Second Asian Conference on Information Systems

The Rangsit Journal of Information Technology (RJIT) announces a forthcoming special issue on the Second Asian Conference on Information Systems which will be published in February, 2014.

The Second Asian Conference on Information Systems (ACIS 2013) following the successes of four Japan-China Joint Symposia of Information Systems (JCIS 2008-2011), the Japan-Cambodia Joint Symposium of Information Systems and Communication Technology (JCAICT 2011) and ACIS 2012 (the first conference of the ACIS series) is the unique, premier meeting of researchers, professionals and practitioners to discuss various current issues in information systems and related areas with a special focus on the current conditions and the future sustainable developments of Asian countries. ACIS 2013 is organized by the International Institute of Applied Informatics, Japan (IIAI), and supported by research institutes in Asian countries.

By taking this opportunity, the special issue on ACIS 2013 has been planned to publish articles which are limited to the papers presented at oral or poster session in ACIS 2013. Your participation to ACIS 2013 and the contribution to this special issue would be greatly appreciated.
